BONDED WAREHOUSE ACCOUNT.

QUANTITIES of the PRINCIPAL ARTICLES IMPORTED (subject to Duty) IN WAREHOUSE on 31st December 1859; RECEIVED INTO, and DELIVERED FROM WAREHOUSE in the Year 1860; and REMAINING IN WAREHOUSE on 31st December 1860, at the PRINCIPAL BONDING PORTS in the UNITED KINGDOM.

IN THE YEAR

1860.

NOTE.—As inaccuracies are sometimes supposed to occur in this Account, because discrepancies appear, if the Stock remaining in Warehouse be compared with the difference between the Total Imports of an Article and the subsequent Exports and Entries for Home Consumption, the following explanations are given to show that this Account is not susceptible of verification in the manner described :

In the compilation of the Bonded Warehouse Account, every document is used which substantiates a receipt or delivery under any circumstances, and this Account therefore presents an accurate view of the Stock in Warehouse both at the commencement and termination of the period which it embraces.

The column headed "Received into the Warehouse during the Year" includes :—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another ; and under the head of "Wine" it also includes the increase of quantity caused by the addition of Spirits for the purpose of fortifying the Wine in Warehouse.

The column headed "Delivered from the Warehouse during the Year" includes :—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another.

The Deliveries of the respective Articles for Home Consumption, on payment of Duty.

The Exports of the respective Articles, less the Quantities exported on Drawback or otherwise, subsequently to the payment of Duty.

The Quantities of certain Articles delivered free of Duty for removal to the Victualling Stores of Her Majesty's Dockyards, or for the use of the Officers of Her Majesty's Navy and Army ; and the Quantities delivered free of Duty to be used as Ships' Stores on board Merchant and Passenger Vessels, as shown in the Supplemental Account, p. 468.

The Quantities of Tea, Tobacco, Pepper, and other Articles taken out of Warehouse to be destroyed in cases of damage.

Under the head of "Brandy" the Quantities used in fortifying Wine in Bond.

Under the head of "Rum" the Quantities Mixed in Bond, with other Spirits, either British or Foreign, to be eventually exported under the denomination of "Mixed Spirits."

As regards the Quantities of Articles Entered for Home Consumption, which are shown in the General Import Account, it is to be remembered that they comprise the Quantities charged with Duty, and passed into consumption immediately on their delivery from the Ship, as well as the Quantities taken out of Warehouse for Home Consumption.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

THE Judicial Statistics for the year 1860 have been prepared in the same form and under the same heads as those for the preceding years. The able direction under which their arrangement was first planned and carried into effect, pursuant to the instructions of the Secretary of State, has however been lost by the retirement of Mr. Redgrave, whose great experience in matters connected with the police, and long acquaintance with the Criminal Returns, the Criminal Law, and the procedure of the Courts, peculiarly fitted him for the task which was confided to him, and which he so successfully accomplished. In the absence of the qualifications which he possessed, it can only be hoped that, the line marked out being closely followed, and the utmost care and attention having been devoted to the abstracting of the numerous Returns upon which these Statistics are based, it will be found that results are arrived at with the same accuracy as heretofore. The numbers collected from the Returns are given in the tables at the end, with such calculations and comparisons as have been usual, or as appeared obvious, in the preliminary part. It is sought, in short, to furnish facts, as reliable data from which statisticians may draw their own conclusions.

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

The Police Returns come first in order. They show the strength of the Police and Constabulary Force throughout the country, and their cost; the number of the criminal classes at large and known to the Police, and the number of houses of bad character which they frequent; the number of crimes committed and reported to the Police; the number of apprehensions which followed, and the disposal of the persons apprehended; the numbers proceeded against summarily before the Justices, with the proportion convicted, and the punishments awarded.

POLICE AND
CONSTABULARY.

The total number of the Police and Constabulary was on the 29th September 1860 :

Amount of the Police, (Table,
p. 1.)

A small increase has taken place in the Police Forces in the year 1860, amounting to 163, or 0·8 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year. For the two previous years the increase had been respectively 1,069, or 5·6 per cent. in 1858 as compared with the preceding year, and 341, or 1·6 per cent. in 1859 as compared with 1858. The amount of increase thus annually diminishing, it may be inferred that the Force has nearly reached the full number sufficient for the requirements of the different localities, and will receive little further addition. With some variations in the numbers of the different ranks, the increase for the past year was composed of 89 Borough Constables, 61 County Constables, and an addition of 21 to the Police of the City of London, the returns showing a decrease of 7 in the Metropolitan Force.

The Force consisted of,—

Constables of Boroughs appointed under the Corporation Act of 1835	-	-	6,082
County Constables appointed under the Constabulary Acts of 1839 and 1840	-	-	7,761
Metropolitan Police Constables appointed under the Police Act of 1829	-	-	6,289
Constables for the City of London appointed under the City Local Act of 1839	-	-	628
Total Police and Constabulary	-	-	20,760

Proportion in the different districts.

In the statistics for 1859, the relative amount of the Police Force was shown in proportion to the population for the whole of England, viz. 1 in 870; for the City of London, 1 in 210; for the Metropolitan Police district, 1 in 384; for the town and port of Liverpool, 1 in 308; in Manchester, 1 in 502; Birmingham, 1 in 636; Sheffield, 1 in 708; and for several of the Counties, viz. Warwickshire, 1 in 1,221; Essex, 1 in 1,259; Devon, 1 in 1,307; Worcestershire, 1 in 1,314; Lancashire, 1 in 1,332; Kent, 1 in 1,355; Staffordshire, 1 in 1,392; Norfolk, 1 in 1,458; West Riding of Yorkshire, 1 in 1,531; Suffolk, 1 in 1,602. The trifling addition made to the total number of the Force in 1860 would make scarcely a perceptible difference in the proportion for the whole of England. Taking the population of the Counties apart from that of the Boroughs maintaining a separate Police, the proportion, calculating on the amount of the Force for 1860, is 1 in 1,417; taking the population of the Boroughs maintaining separate Forces (excepting the City of London and the Metropolitan Police District) 1 in 720.

Costs of the Police,

The expenses of the police under the different heads were as follows:

	£	s.	d.
Salaries and pay	1,120,807	9	0
Allowances and contingent expenses	35,568	1	4
Clothing and accoutrements	120,240	2	3

Horses, harness, forage, &c.	33,023	19	3
Station-house charges, printing, stationery, &c.	136,728	7	8
Other miscellaneous charges	20,038	12	11
Total costs	£1,531,111	5	7

Increase of costs.

The total costs show an increase of 46,082*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.* or upwards of 3 per cent. as compared with the preceding year. An increase is found under all the heads excepting "Allowances and contingent expenses" and "Other miscellaneous charges," the amount under each of the two latter heads being less than in 1859. The charges for 1860, including the whole costs of the establishments, average 73*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.* per man on the total of the Police; calculating only the salaries and pay 53*l.* 19*s.* 9*d.* per man; clothing and accoutrements 5*l.* 15*s.* 10*d.* per man; the amounts having been in the preceding year, respectively, 72*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*, 53*l.* 13*s.* 0*d.*, and 5*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.* per man.

The increase in the amount of salaries and pay is 15,099*l.* or about 1·4 per cent.; for clothing and accoutrements it is 15,748*l.* 6*s.* 7*d.* or about 15·7 per cent.; for superannuations, 3,839*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.* or about 6·3 per cent.; for horses, harness, forage, &c., 3,366*l.* 16*s.* 10*d.* or above 11·3 per cent.; for station house charges, &c., 17,837*l.* 18*s.* 8*d.* or about 15 per cent.

For the Borough Police the increase amounts to 16,748*l.* 8*s.* 8*d.* or 4·5 per cent.; for the County Constabulary to 20,413*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* or nearly 3·5 per cent.; for the Metropolitan District it was 8,556*l.* or 1·7 per cent. only; for the City of London 364*l.* 4*s.* 4*d.* or 0·7 per cent.

The charge of each class of Police in the Year 1860, and the amounts contributed from the Public Revenue were,—

The Returns of the number of thieves, prostitutes, suspected persons, and vagrants at large have been continued by the Police for the year 1860 in the same form as for the preceding years, and their results may be considered satisfactory not only as showing a decrease in the number of these classes, but also as tending, by the closeness with which the general totals correspond for the three years to which the returns extend, to prove the accuracy of the information possessed by the Police with regard to them.

In the general total for 1860 there is a decrease of 3·5 per cent. as compared with the preceding year. Among the juveniles a decrease appears in every class and of both sexes, amounting for the whole number to 8·4 per cent. Only in the number of adult receivers of stolen goods of both sexes and of adult prostitutes is any increase found, and that of trifling amount.

The calculations made in the two preceding years with a view to show the proportion which the criminal classes bear to the population in certain districts, are continued for 1860.

Their proportion in the chief districts.

Comparing the total number of the criminal classes in the eight districts which have been selected, and also the total number of prostitutes separately, for the two years 1859 and 1860, there is a decrease in the latter year of 3·8 per cent. in the number of the criminal classes, and of 2·5 per cent. in the number of prostitutes taken separately. In the metropolis, however, an increase of 5·2 per cent. is shown in the number of the criminal classes, and of 1·3 per cent. in the number of prostitutes, raising the proportion of the former class from 1 in 194·0 of the population, in 1859 to 1 in 183·8 in 1860, and of the latter from 1 in 371·6 to 1 in 366·8. In the pleasure towns there was a decrease both of the criminal classes and of the prostitutes, lowering the proportion with regard to the former from 1 in 87·4 in 1859 to 1 in 103·8 in 1860, and with regard to the latter from 1 in 209·9 to 1 in 248·2. In the towns depending upon agricultural districts the proportion of the criminal classes again is lowered from 1 in 86·6 to 1 in 91·5, while the number and proportion of prostitutes to the population continues the same. In the commercial ports there is a decrease from the proportion of 1 in 96·4 to 1 in 99·9, of the criminal classes, and from 1 in 173·4 to 1 in 182·0 in the prostitutes. In the seats of the cotton and linen manufactures again the numbers are less, the proportion being with regard to the criminal classes 1 in 131·4 in 1860 and 1 in 124·6 in 1859, and with regard to the prostitutes 1 in 506·4 in 1860 and 1 in 469·7 in 1859. In the seats of the woollen and worsted manufactures there is an increase in the criminal classes in 1860, the proportion being 1 in 121·0, while for 1859 it was 1 in 137·0 only. With regard to the prostitutes, however, the proportion was 1 in 596·8 in 1860, in 1859 1 in 559·2. In the seats of the textile fabrics there is a decrease in both classes. The proportion of the criminal classes was 1 in 126·7 in 1860, and 1 in 119·4 in 1859; of the prostitutes 1 in 357·2 and 1 in 345·9. In the seats of the hardware manufactures, where the proportion of the criminal classes is the highest, a decrease of these classes is shown in 1860, the proportion being in that year 1 in 67·8, in 1859 1 in 54·4. In the number of prostitutes there is an increase from the proportion of 1 in 453·5 in 1859 to 1 in 423·3 in 1860, this and the metropolis being the only districts in which there was not a decrease in the proportion of this class in the latter year.

The following are the numbers of these classes and their proportion to the population in each of the districts in 1860.

	Criminal classes.	Prostitutes separately.
1. The Metropolis .—Including an average radius of 15 miles round Charing Cross, and comprising the District of the Metropolitan Police and the City of London Police - - -	13,846, or 1 in 183·8	6,940, or 1 in 366·8
2. Pleasure Towns .—Brighton, Bath, Dover, Leamington, Gravesend, Scarborough, and Ramsgate - - -	1,900, or 1 in 103·8	795, or 1 in 248·2
3. Towns depending upon Agricultural Districts .—Ipswich, Exeter, Reading, Shrewsbury, Lincoln, Winchester, Hereford, and Bridgwater - - -	1,754, or 1 in 91·5	666, or 1 in 241·0
4. Commercial Ports .—Liverpool, Bristol, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Kingston-on-Hull, Sunderland, Southampton, Swansea, Yarmouth, Tynemouth, and South Shields - -	9,024, or 1 in 99·9	4,954, or 1 in 182·0
5. Seats of the Cotton and Linen Manufacture .—Manchester, Preston, Salford, Bolton, Stockport, Oldham, Blackburn, Wigan, Staley-bridge, and Ashton-under-Lyne - -	5,776, or 1 in 131·4	1,499, or 1 in 506·4
6. Seats of the Woollen and Worsted Manufacture .—Leeds, Bradford, Halifax, Rochdale, Huddersfield, and Kidderminster - -	3,147, or 1 in 121·0	638, or 1 in 596·8
7. Seats of the small and mixed Textile Fabrics .—Norwich, Nottingham, Derby, Macclesfield, Coventry, Newcastle-under-Lyne, and Congleton - - -	2,080, or 1 in 126·7	738, or 1 in 357·2
8. Seats of the Hardware Manufacture .—Birmingham, Sheffield, and Wolverhampton -	6,156, or 1 in 67·8	987, or 1 in 423·3

Notwithstanding the increase which is shown to have taken place in the Metropolis in 1860 with respect to both classes, the proportion of the criminal class is still less in this than in any of the other districts, nor has its relative position changed with regard to the proportionate number of prostitutes.

The relative positions of the eight districts in each year were as follows, the smallest number in proportion to the population being found, with regard to the criminal classes, in the Metropolis, with regard to prostitutes, separately, in the seats of the Woollen Manufacture,—

The only changes are, with regard to the relative amount of criminality, that the seats of the cotton and of the textile fabrics have respectively risen one step in the scale, while the seats of the woollen manufactures have fallen two, and that the pleasure towns and the commercial ports have changed places to the advantage of the former. With regard to the amount of prostitution, the pleasure towns again show one degree of improvement, having changed position with the towns depending upon agricultural districts.

The returns from the agricultural counties show an increase of both classes in each of the three groups of counties, excepting only that in the south and south-western counties, the number of prostitutes was less in 1860, than in the preceding year, at the same time that the increase of the criminal class generally was greater in this than in either of the other two districts.

The proportion of these classes to the population having been shown in the foregoing groups of towns and districts, it may be well to note their proportion to the whole population according to the last census. In next year's statistics the new census will afford a fresh basis of calculation. The proportion of the criminal classes at large, as given in the returns for 1860, was 1 in 136·8 of the total population, of prostitutes separately 1 in 549·6. In estimating the numbers of the criminal classes, however, the calculation may properly be extended beyond the numbers returned as being at large and known to the police, and may embrace those who from being in prison, are, at least those who have been convicted, more certainly deserving of the name of criminals. The numbers for 1860, that is, those remaining in custody on the 29th September, were,

In Local Prisons (exclusive of debtors and military prisoners) -	13,459
In the Convict Prisons -	7,794
In Reformatories -	2,868

These added to the numbers at large give a total of 155,145 or 1 in 115 of the total population.

We have, therefore, one of the police force for every 870 of the population, one of the criminal classes for every 115, one of the police for every 7·4 of the criminal classes.

The houses of bad character have been returned by the police under the same classification as in the preceding years.

character, (Table,

POLICE AND
CONSTABULARY.

In the number of these houses the returns show a decrease of every class except the houses of receivers of stolen goods, and coffee shops, in each of which there is a small increase.

The decrease on the total number is 5·9 per cent., an increase of 4·6 per cent. having been shown by the returns for 1859, as compared with the preceding year.

Crimes committed. The strength of the Police Force throughout the country having now been shown, and the number of the criminal classes, so far as known to the Police, having been given, it remains to state the number of crimes which were committed, the number of apprehensions which followed, and the results of the charges in the cases brought before the magistrates.

Seasons at which the Crimes were committed, (Table, p. 9.) The returns of the number of crimes committed are made for periods of three months, and continue to prove the greater prevalence of crime in the winter quarters, which has been remarked in former years. In the total number reported for the year there is a decrease of 3·1 per cent. as compared with the number for 1859. The apprehensions, which for the latter year were 52·1 per cent. on the crimes, were 49·3 per cent. only on the crimes for 1860. They were in the proportion of 2·4 per cent. higher in the summer than in the winter in 1860; in 1859 the proportion was 2·0 per cent.

Localities of the Crimes, (Table,
p. 13.)

The number of crimes of every description committed in each of the Police districts is shown in Table 4. The number of murders reported by the Police was nearly the same in 1859 and 1860. The localities in which they occurred varied considerably. There does not appear to be any ground for considering this crime more prevalent in one district than another. Of 99 cases reported by the Police in 1860, 3 were in the Metropolitan Police district, one in the City of London, 12 in Lancashire, 4 in Yorkshire. In 1859, of 95, the total number of murders reported, 12 were in the Metropolitan district, 19 in Lancashire, 12 in Yorkshire. In 1860, the largest numbers of murders in any district, after Lancashire, were, in the county of Stafford 11, in the county of Southampton 10, including both county and borough districts. In 1859, in Staffordshire there were only 4, in Southampton 5. Of 147 cases of concealing the birth of infants reported in 1860, 103 were in counties, 24 in towns, and 20 in the Metropolitan district. Burglary and house breaking will be found to be most frequent in the country districts. In the city of Manchester, however, the cases of these crimes amounted to 269, or an offence against one in every 1,127·8 of the population, while in Liverpool only 51 cases were reported, or an offence against one in every 7,341·2 of the population. In Manchester the total number of indictable offences reported was 5,975, in Liverpool 4,194, the population of the latter town exceeding that of the former by 17,000. In 1859 the cases of house breaking and burglary were, in Manchester 227, in Liverpool 79. The total of the indictable offences was, in Manchester 6,126, in Liverpool 3,901, showing a still greater disproportion in the total number of crimes than in the year 1860.

In the Metropolitan district there was a decrease in the cases of burglary and house breaking in 1860 as compared with the preceding year amounting to 28·8 per cent.

Taking the groups of towns which have been already used for comparison, the total number of crimes committed gives three for each known thief or depredator at large, while in the groups of counties there is but one crime to every three of the criminal classes at large. In the seats of the hardware manufactures, where it has been shown that the proportion of the criminal classes at large to the population is highest, the number of offences against the person is only 53, or an offence against one in every 7,889·4 of the population, while the number of offences against property, with violence, is 445, or an offence against one in every 939·6 of the population. On the other hand, in the group of seaport towns, in the class of offences against the person, the number is an offence against one in every 3,800·9 of the population, in the class of offences against property with violence, an offence against one in every 2,857·4 of the population; the former class of offences thus appearing to be twice as frequent in the seaports, the latter class less frequent, in the proportion of 1 to 3. In the group of pleasure towns, these offences are of rare occurrence, those against the person numbering only 12, or an offence against one in 16,496·1 of the population, those against property with violence numbering 18, or an offence against one in every 10,997 of the population. In the latter group of towns the total number of offences committed was 998, or an offence against one in every 198·3 of the population. Of these 998 offences, 78·3 per cent were larcenies.

Of the 24,862 persons apprehended by the Police, 34·7 per cent., or more than one third, were at once discharged upon being brought before the magistrates; 0·5 per cent. were liberated on bail for further appearance if required, 4·9 per cent. on bail, to appear for trial, 59·6 per cent. were committed to prison to wait their trial, at assizes or sessions, and the remainder, 0·3 per cent., were also sent to prison, for want of sureties. It results therefore, that sufficient evidence to satisfy the magistrates of the guilt of the accused, was produced against 65·3 per cent. of the total number apprehended. The following are the terms under which the charges were disposed of,— persons apprehended.

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.

The result of the Police pursuit, in the different classes of the crimes committed, was as follows,—

Pursuit of Criminals.

2,200 crimes recorded in the class of offences against the person were followed by 2,320 apprehensions; of the persons apprehended 617 were discharged on being brought before the magistrates, leaving 1,703, or 77·4 per cent. as the number of the cases successfully pursued by the police, supposing one person only to have been sent for trial in each case. In the preceding year the proportion of these cases successfully pursued was 73·9 per cent.

In the class of offences against property with violence 4,065 crimes recorded were followed by 2,011 apprehensions: 545 of the persons apprehended were discharged, leaving 1,466, or 36 per cent. of the cases, the same proportion as in the preceding year, as the number successfully pursued.

In the class of wilful and malicious injuries to property, 503 crimes were recorded, followed by 326 apprehensions; 134 of the persons apprehended were discharged, leaving 192, or 38·1 per cent., of the cases successfully pursued. The remaining offences recorded amount to 43,637, including cattle, horse, and sheep stealing, larcenies, embezzlement, receiving stolen goods, frauds and forgery, and offences connected with the currency and other offences unaccompanied by violence. These were followed by 20,205 apprehensions; and 7,363 of the persons apprehended having been discharged there remained 12,842 or 29·4 per cent of the cases successfully pursued.

On the whole, 50,405 crimes being recorded, followed by 24,862 apprehensions, and 8,659 of the persons apprehended having been discharged by the magistrates, there remained 16,203, or 32·1 per cent., as the proportion of the cases successfully pursued by the Police. Calculating in the same manner upon the numbers for the preceding year, the proportion was 32·5 per cent.

No. of summary

The number of persons charged summarily before the magistrates, in the year 1860, and the results of the charges were as follows:—

Convicted	- 212,018	43,785	255,803

Comparison.

In the total number proceeded against, there is a decrease of 2· per cent., as compared with the number for 1859.

For the latter year, the convictions were in the proportion of 65·6 per cent, to the total number of persons charged; in 1860, they were in the proportion of 66·4 per cent.

The smaller proportion in the convictions borne by the females, which was remarked in the previous year, is equally observable for 1860, the difference being almost identical in the two years. In 1859, it was 14·8 per cent; in 1860, 14·3, the proportion of the males in the latter year, being 69·4, of the females 55·1; in 1859, it was respectively 68·7, and 53·9 per cent.

The numbers committed to prison, were in the proportion of 20·8 per cent, to the total numbers convicted. In 1859, they were 22·2 per cent. In the number imprisoned above 6 months, there was an increase in 1860, also in the number fined. The latter were in the proportion of 64·5 per cent. to the total convicted in 1860, in 1859 63·6 per cent. In the relative numbers of the other sentences there was little variation in the two years. There was an increase of 24·7 per cent. in the number sent to reformatories in 1860. Of the total number convicted the sentences of 6·8 per cent. only amounted to imprisonment exceeding one month in duration.

The classification of the offences summarily determined by the justices which has been before adopted is continued for 1860.

In the first class, comprising the more grave of the offences and under some of which an extensive jurisdiction is exercised, the total number of offences is less in the proportion of 1·3 per cent. as compared with the preceding year. The decrease is distributed in pretty equal proportions among the three first heads relating to larceny; under each of the three last heads there was a trifling increase.

Offences determined, (Table,
p. 25.)

1. Stealing and attempts to steal:

Larceny, by offenders aged under 16 years	-	-	-	6,048
Larceny under the value of 5s. and on pleading guilty	-	-	-	13,416
Attempting larceny, or larceny from the person	-	-	-	12,990
Dogs, birds, beasts, &c.	-	-	-	717
Fruit or vegetable productions	-	-	-	3,002
Fences, wood, trees, shrubs, &c.	-	-	-	682
				36,855

It appears desirable to repeat the statements given in the Statistics for last year with regard to the foregoing and the following class of offences, viz., that in the foregoing class the first offence has been subject to summary jurisdiction since 1847, the two following offences since 1855, and the remaining three since 1827.

In the next class there was an increase of 52 cases, or about 1·3 per cent. as compared with 1859.

2. Malicious offences of damage and trespass:

Destroying fences, walls, gates, &c.	-	-	-	1,946
Fruit and vegetable productions	-	-	-	935
Trees, shrubs, &c.	-	-	-	821
				3,702

These malicious offences, also, have been punishable summarily since 1827.

In the class relating to assaults there is a decrease amounting to 8·0 per cent. as compared with 1859; the greatest proportionate decrease being under the head of assaults on peace officers, &c., 13·1 per cent.; the proportionate decrease under the other heads being respectively 7·9 and 7·1 per cent.

3. Assaults:

On peace officers, resisting, &c.	-	-	-	11,594
Common	-	-	-	62,748
				77,290

Common assaults have been subject to the summary jurisdiction of the justices since 1828, aggravated assaults on women and children only since 1853.

In the number of offences against the Game Laws there was an increase of 4·8 per cent.

4. Offences against the Game Laws:

Trespassing in the day-time in pursuit of game	-	-	-	7,564
Night poaching and destroying game	-	-	-	1,053
Illegally selling or buying game	-	-	-	37
				8,654

A comparison of the numbers proceeded against for the following offences in the years 1859 and 1860 respectively shows a decrease in the number for the latter year of 1·7 per cent. under the head of drunkenness; of 7·8 per cent. under the Vagrant Laws; of 5·2 per cent. under the Police Acts; of 10·4 per cent. under the Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Acts; of 2·0 per cent. under the Weights and Measures Act; of 6·8 per cent. under the Poor Law Acts; of 3·9 per cent. under the Nuisance Removal and Offences against Health Acts. There was an increase in the number proceeded against in 1860 of 12·7 per cent. under Local Acts and Borough Byelaws; of 7·5 per cent. under the Road and Carriage Laws; of 17·2 per cent. under the Laws relating to servants, apprentices, and masters; and of 1·0 per cent. under the Mutiny Acts.

The numbers under each of the foregoing heads for 1860 were,

POLICE AND
CONSTABULARY.Comparison,
1860-59-58-57.

The numbers proceeded against, and the proportion of these convicted and discharged, in each of the four years, commencing with 1857, were as follows,— 1860.	1859.	1858.	1857.

Total proceeded against	- -	384,918	392,810	404,034	369,233

Discharged	- -	129,115	135,000	143,744	135,759

In the total number proceeded against in 1860 there is a decrease of 7,892, or 2 per cent. as compared with the number in 1859, while the decrease in the convictions was 0·8 per cent. only.

The year 1857 shows the smallest number proceeded against and convicted, with the largest proportionate number discharged. In this year the working of the Police could not be supposed to be complete in many of the counties where it was but just established. In the following year when its organization and arrangement were more fully developed the largest numbers proceeded against and convicted appear, followed by a progressive decrease in the numbers of those proceeded against in the two succeeding years. From this it seems fair to infer that the preventive as well as the detective services of the police are producing their effect in the repression of the class of offences which come within the summary jurisdiction of the justices, as well as of the graver class of crimes, the decrease in the number of which reported to the police has already been shown.

Character of the accused, (Table,
p. 33.)

The class and character of the persons apprehended by the police in 1860, as well those proceeded against on indictment as those proceeded against summarily are defined under the following general heads.

Continuing the comparison made last year of the numbers of the foregoing classes proceeded against with the numbers reported to be at large, it will appear that in 1860 the Police have pursued 19,864 known thieves and depredators against 37,914 stated to have been at large, or 52·4 per cent., and 20,660 prostitutes against 30,800 at large, or 67 per cent.; in 1859 the numbers were 22,024 thieves and depredators proceeded against and 39,538 at large, or 55·7 per cent., and 22,755 prostitutes proceeded against and 30,780 at large, or 73·8 per cent., showing a somewhat smaller proportion of these classes pursued by the Police in 1860 than in the preceding year.

The agency of the Police in the repression of the criminal classes is further shown by the following reference to the number of known thieves at large, of crimes committed, and of persons apprehended in the Metropolis and the several groups of towns and counties, with regard to which comparisons have already been made.

The table in page 37 shows the cases in which appeals were made to the Quarter Sessions against the decisions of the justices on summary proceedings. Appeals on Justices' Convictions, (Table, p. 37.)

The number of summary convictions, as has been shown, was 255,803. The number of appeals was only 58. In 33 of the cases the convictions were affirmed, in 25 they were quashed. In one case only, therefore, in every 10,232 was the decision of the justices reversed by the superior court.

To these, however, must be added the appeals under the statute 20 & 21 Vict. c. 43., of which there were 78, viz. to the Court of Queen's Bench 59; to the Court of Common Pleas 15; and to the Court of Exchequer 4. These cases will be found included in the returns of the proceedings of the respective courts in the second part of the Statistics.

The coroners' inquests are classed under the head of Police as has been the practice in former years, this appearing to be their proper place in the Statistics, the inquiry before the coroner being a preliminary proceeding in the nature of a Police inquiry, and leading to the same result, in criminal cases, in the commitment of parties for trial. Coroners' Returns, (Table, p. 38.)

The returns for 1860 have been made in the same form as heretofore. It must, however, be observed that the return for the Dudley district of Worcestershire is incomplete, relating only to the latter part of the year. A new coroner having been appointed in the month of September, no return has been obtained for the preceding months. From the Borough of Sudbury also no return has been received. With these exceptions the returns are complete.

By an Act of Parliament passed in the session of 1860, provision is made for the payment of county coroners by salary, instead of fees. These officers will therefore in future be free to exercise their own judgment as to the cases in which inquests ought to be held, irrespective of any consideration as to costs. The Act commenced only with the present year, but no doubt in anticipation of its operation, the complaints which had before been frequent, as to the disallowance of fees in certain cases by the justices and the consequent restrictions in the holding of inquests, had ceased in 1860, and the effect may perhaps be admitted from the increased number of inquests in that year, the number exceeding the average of the three previous years by 4.8 per cent.

The number of Inquests held in the year was as follows,—

POLICE AND
CONSTABULARY.

The increase is most observable in the number of females, and especially in the number of those murdered, in which it amounts to 16·1 per cent. upon the number in 1859, the number in that year having exceeded by one third the average for the three preceding years. The total increase in 1860 as compared with 1859 amounts to 3·1 per cent.; among the males the increase was 1·8 per cent., of the females it was 5·9 per cent. The comparative numbers in the five years to which the returns extend are,—

Age and Sex.

In the following table the persons upon whom inquests were held are classified with regard to age under four periods, the sexes being also distinguished.

The highest proportion of the total number (46·6 per cent.) it will be seen was of the adults between 16 and 60 years of age. Of the males upward of half (51·9 per cent.) were of this age. Among the females the highest proportion (39·1 per cent.) was of infants of 7 years old and under; 23·4 per cent. represent the proportion of males of this age.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Criminal Returns for 1860 show a decrease in the number of commitments for trial amounting to 4·06 per cent. as compared with the number for the preceding year. For three successive years, therefore, there has been a continued diminution in the commitments.

The comparative numbers in 1860 and the previous years, were,— showing a decrease for the five years during which the Criminal Justice Act has been in full operation, amounting to 34·8 per cent. as compared with the average of the two preceding periods of five years.

In the total of the class of Offences against the person, there was a decrease in the commitments in 1860 as compared with 1859, amounting to 10·7 per cent., and this following a decrease of 5·8 per cent. in the latter year as compared with 1858. In the commitments for murder, taken separately, the decrease was 30 per cent.; for attempts to murder 30·3 per cent., both of these crimes having shown an increase in 1859; for manslaughter the decrease was 12·6 per cent.; for stabbing, &c., 6·2 per cent.; for unnatural offences 21·1 per cent.; for rape, carnally abusing young girls, and assaults with intent, &c., there was a decrease of 7·3 per cent.;—in all these last-mentioned crimes there had been a decrease also in 1859. In the commitments for concealing the birth of infants, there was a slight increase in 1860; for bigamy, there was a decrease of 14·2 per cent., both these latter crimes having shown an increase in 1859.

State of each Class of the Commitments, (Table,
p. 45.)

In the total of the class of Offences against property with violence, there was a decrease in the commitments amounting to 7·8 per cent.; for the crime of burglary, taken separately, there was an increase of 3·5 per cent.; for housebreaking, a decrease of 12·1 per cent.; for robberies and attempts to rob, of 18·2 per cent.; of this class of offences there had been a large decrease in each of the two preceding years.

For Offences against property without violence, the decrease in the commitments was only 0·5 per cent. This class includes cattle-stealing, horse-stealing (in which there was a slight increase), and sheep-stealing, the various larcenies tried on indictment, in the number of which, taken together, there was also a trifling increase, and embezzlement in which there was an increase amounting to 5·0 per cent.; also receiving stolen goods, and frauds and attempts to defraud, in which there was an increase respectively of 7·2 and 12·5 per cent.

In the class of Malicious Offences against property there was an increase of 2·6 per cent.

For Forgery and offences against the currency, a decrease appears of 16·8 per cent., following a decrease of 11·7 per cent. in 1859 as compared with 1858.

In the commitments for Offences not included in the foregoing classes, there was a decrease of 21·9 per cent. Included in this class are offences against the game laws, and perjury, in which there was a decrease,—in the former of 34·0 per cent., in the latter of 15·2 per cent.; an increase in both of these offences having been remarked in 1859.

Comparing the commitments in each county separately for the years 1859 and 1860, it will be found that in 23 counties there was a decrease in the number to a greater or less extent in 1860. In Rutland, the smallest county, where the number of commitments was least, being 19 for 1859 and 11 for 1860, the decrease was in the proportion of 42·1 per cent.; in Warwick it was 29·5 per cent.; in Durham 23·4; in Bedford 22·8; in Hertford 21·8; in Westmoreland 20·0 per cent.; in Leicester 17·0 per cent.; in Cambridge 16·2; in Huntingdon 14·2; in Northumberland 11·4; in Lancashire 10·5; in Gloucester 9·6; in Suffolk 7·3; in Kent 7·0 per cent.; in Norfolk 6·9; in Hereford 5·7; in the remaining 7 counties; viz., Surrey, York, Berks, Middlesex, Oxford, Monmouth, and Derby, it was, respectively, 2·9, 2·6, 2·2, 1·8, 1·8, 1·1, and 1·0 per cent. In each of 16 counties there was an increase in 1860; viz., in Shropshire amounting to 25·9 per cent.; in Cumberland to 19·5; in Essex to 17·9; in Wilts to 17·4; in Dorset to 17·2; in Buckingham to 13·8; in Southampton to 12·7; in Sussex to 10·9; in Devon to 3·5; in Northampton to 3·0 per cent.; in Somerset to 2·1; in Worcester to 2·0 per cent.; in Lincoln to 1·4; in Stafford to 0·8 per cent.; in Cornwall and Nottingham, each, there was one more commitment in 1860 than in 1859; in Cheshire the numbers were equal in the two years. In the Welsh counties, taken collectively, there was a decrease in 1860 amounting to 10·3 per cent. In three of the counties, however, there was an increase; viz., in

The courts for the trial of criminal cases; viz., the County and Borough Courts of Quarter Sessions, the Circuit Assize Courts, and the Central Criminal Court, the constitution of these courts, and the extent of their respective jurisdictions, were described in the Statistics for 1859. The numbers committed for trial before these different courts in 1860, and the proportions per cent. which they bore to the total for trial, are given in the following table, with the corresponding numbers and proportions for 1859, for the sake of comparison:—

The following were the results of the proceedings against those committed or bailed to appear for trial by jury in the foregoing courts in each of the years 1860 and 1859:—

acquitted.

The proportion of those acquitted and discharged varied in a very slight degree in the two years, being 0·6 per cent. less in 1860 than in 1859. Of those not prosecuted the proportion was less than 0·5 per cent. in 1860. In 1859, it was rather more than 0·5 per cent. Of those against whom no bills were found it was 4·8 per cent. in 1860, 4·9 per cent. in 1859. Of those not guilty by verdict of jury, 19·1 per cent. in 1860, 19·6 per cent. in 1859. Compared with the preceding years the relative total proportion was in

Sentences.

Leniency of the Sentences.

In the following Table the sentences are given for each of the last ten years. The capital sentences in 1860 were under 0·4 per cent. of the total convicted. In 1859, they were rather more than 0·4 per cent. On an average of the ten years ending with 1859, they amounted to little more than 0·3 per cent. Transportation, as a sentence, has entirely ceased, and has been superseded by penal servitude, under the statute of the 20th and 21st Vict. Power, however, is given by this statute for the removal to the penal colonies of any convict sentenced to penal servitude, and under this power a small number of convicts were removed to the island of Bermuda in the year, as will be found under the head of convict prisons. The sentences to penal servitude amounted to 18·4 per cent. of the total number convicted, the large proportion of 64·4 per cent. of those sentenced to penal servitude having been for the shorter periods of 4 years and under, and 21 only for life. The sentences to imprisonment, including those sent to reformatory schools, were in the proportion of 80·0 per cent. to the total convicted, 8·7 per cent. only of the sentences of imprisonment having been for periods of above one year.

victions.

The following Table gives the number of convictions, for each of the last ten years, for each of the crimes now liable to capital punishment. The average of the capital convictions for these years is 56.

The extreme penalty of the law may, however, be considered as virtually confined to murder, no execution having taken place for any other crime since the year 1841. The case which occurred in that year was for an attempt to murder, where life was seriously endangered.

In 1860, in 12 of the capital convictions executions followed, all being cases of murder without any ground upon which mercy could be extended to the criminals. The particulars of the cases were as follows:—

Executions, 1860.

Bedford.—Joseph Castle, aged 24. Murder of his wife under excitement occasioned by unfounded jealousy and suspicion of her.

Criminal Appeals,

In the year 1860, 19 cases were reserved at assizes and sessions for the consideration of the Court of Criminal Appeal, constituted under the 11 and 12 Vict. c. 78.

The following table shows the original offences charged, the courts at which the cases were tried, and the decisions of the Court of Appeal. It will be seen, that of the 19 cases brought before the court, in 15 the sentences pronounced on trial were affirmed, in three only reversed, no judgment having been given in the remaining case. Fuller details will be found at p. 55 in the Return furnished by the clerk of the court.

The costs of the prosecutions, and of the summary proceedings under the Criminal Justice Act, and the Juvenile Offenders Act, which are defrayed from the public revenues, have been made up for the year ending 30th June 1859, in continuation of the account given in last year's statistics, for the year ending 30th June 1858. The amounts were as follows:—

Showing a decrease for the latter year, amounting to 34,706*l.* or upwards of 24 per cent. on the total on indictment, and to 2,596*l.*, or nearly 18½ per cent. on the total on summary proceedings. It will be seen that there was also a considerable decrease in the average for each case, following a successive decrease in each of the preceding years for which these costs have been ascertained. The average in the preceding years was,—in 1858, on Indictments, 8*l.* 5*s.* 11*d.*; on summary proceedings, 19*s.* 6*d.* In 1857, on indictments, 9*l.* 2*s.* 3*d.*; on summary proceedings, 1*l.* 11*s.* 5*d.* In 1856, on indictments, 9*l.* 14*s.* 7*d.*; on summary proceedings, 1*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*

These costs have been further made up for the six months, to the 31st December 1859, and for this period were as follows:—

Government Prosecutions.

The return furnished by the Solicitor of the Treasury gives the number of prosecutions in Mint cases, in 1860, as 399, and the total costs 5,445*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*; and the number of other cases conducted by him on the part of the Government as 11, and the costs of these 493*l.* 0*s.* 4*d.*

The numbers and costs of these cases, in the year 1859, were mint prosecutions, 484; total costs 6,830*l.* 9*s.* 5*d.*; other prosecutions, 22; total costs 919*l.* 19*s.* 5*d.*

Two cases prosecuted on the part of government at York, for bribery at elections at Wakefield and Beverley, not being brought to a conclusion, are not included in the above numbers for 1860.

PRISONS.

PRISONS.

The returns from the county, liberty, and borough prisons form, with the returns for the convict prisons, for the reformatories and the industrial schools, and the returns relating to criminal lunatics, the third division of the criminal portion of the Statistics.

The returns for the first mentioned, that is, the local prisons, give the following results as to the number of commitments for the year ending the 29th September 1860:—

Commitments,
1859, (Table,
p. 63.)

Commitments.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per Cent.
For trial and tried at assizes and sessions - - -	12,226	3,964	16,190	13·9
On summary conviction - - -	48,033	22,118	70,151	60·3
For want of sureties - - -	2,441	868	3,309	2·9
On remand and discharged - - -	7,784	3,180	10,964	9·4
For debt and on civil process - - -	11,068	639	11,707	10·1
Under the Mutiny Act - - -	3,961	—	3,961	3·4
Total - - -	85,513	30,769	116,282	100·0

These returns embrace every commitment to prison during the year, whether before trial, or after conviction at assizes and sessions, or on summary conviction before justices, as well as for debt and on civil process, for want of sureties, on remand, and under the Mutiny Act,—in short all commitments for the year. The number of crimes reported by the Police as committed within the year may, for obvious reasons, fall short of the actual number, and a comparison founded upon them may therefore be questioned. On the other hand, the commitments to prison are certain and admit of no question or doubt, and the continued decrease in their number as compared with former years, notwithstanding the surer means for the apprehension of offenders afforded by the now fully established and well organized police, and notwithstanding the annual release within the kingdom, on expiration of sentence and on tickets of leave, of so considerable a number, who, under the system of transportation, would have been removed to and have remained in the colonies, may be admitted as satisfactorily showing a decrease of crime.

Their decrease.

Following a decrease of 9·0 per cent. in the number of commitments for the year 1859 as compared with 1858, the total of the commitments, as shown in the foregoing table, proves a further decrease of 8·3 per cent. for 1860 as compared with 1859. In the number of females for trial and tried, there is an increase of 2·8 per cent., with, however, a much larger proportionate decrease in the number of males under this head. Under every other head a decrease is found, more especially for debt and on civil process, under which the number for 1860 is less than for the previous year in the proportion of 22·6 per cent.

Comparison,
1860-1851.

A comparative table is given, as in the Statistics of the preceding years, showing the commitments under the different heads for each of the last five years with the total for that period, and the total number for the preceding five years. From this table it will be seen that, notwithstanding the large decrease in each of the two last years, the total for the five years beginning with 1856 exceeds the total for the five previous years by 26,616, or upwards of 4 per cent. The excess, however, is chiefly in the military prisoners and the debtors. There is an excess also in the committals on summary convictions amounting to 8·0 per cent.; but taking these summary convictions in conjunction with the commitments for trial and after conviction, a decrease will be found for the latter period of five years of 3·3 per cent.

In the number previously committed there is a decrease of 3,047 in 1860 as compared with the previous year, the number for 1859 having been less by 3,152 than the number for 1858. The proportion of the recommittals to the total commitments in 1860 is 30·4 per cent., showing a small increase as compared with each of the three preceding years. Among the males, the proportion of recommittals to the total commitments of males was 26·1 per cent. The like proportion with regard to the females was 42·4 per cent. It may be also remarked, as showing the incorrigible nature of confirmed female depravity, that of 13,056 females recommitted in the year, no less than 2,584 or 19·8 per cent. were recognized as having been more than ten times previously committed to prison. Of the recommitted males the proportionate number who had been upwards of ten times previously committed was 3·7 per cent.

PRISONS.

The total commitments, exclusive of debtors and military prisoners, were 100,614. Deducting from this number the recommittals and those committed on remand and discharged, the remainder, 54,269 or 46·7 per cent. of the total committals for the year would, if the recommittals were fully reported, represent the number committed within the year for the first time on criminal charges. Again, separating from these the juvenile classes, there would remain 46,240, or 39·8 per cent., of the total commitments as the number of adults sent within the year for the first time to prison as criminals.

Ages of those committed.

The classified ages of the total commitments, exclusive of debtors and military prisoners, were,— Comparative Numbers of the Juvenile Class.

In the number of males under 12 years of age committed in 1860, there is an increase of 10·0 per cent. as compared with 1859; in the number of females of this age there is a decrease of 14·4 per cent.; in the next class, between 12 and 16 years of age, there is a decrease in 1860, both sexes taken together amounting to 13·1 per cent. Comparing the totals of the whole juvenile class under 16 years of age for the two years, there is a decrease of 10·0 per cent. in 1860.

In the four last years the numbers were,— 1860.	1859.	1858.	1857.

Under 12 years of age:
Males - - -	1,307	1,176	1,352	1,622

Females - - -	1,091	1,129	1,291	1,424

Their proportion to the total committed.

The proportion of the juveniles under 16 years of age to the total number committed was 8·0 per cent. in 1860, 8·3 per cent. in 1859, 8·7 per cent. in 1858, and 10·0 per cent. in 1857, showing a small continued decrease.

Birth-place of those committed.

The table showing the birth-place of those committed is remarkable only from the proportion per cent. from the different countries being almost identical in the two years 1859 and 1860, the only variation being an increase in the latter year of ·2 per cent. in the number from Ireland, with a decrease of ·1 per cent. in those from the Colonies, and ·1 per cent. in those not ascertained.

With respect to the degree of instruction of those committed, the inference to be drawn from the returns appears to be favorable. Of those who could neither read nor write the proportion per cent. of the whole number committed was for 1859, 35·7; for 1860, 34·1; of those who could read, or read and write, though imperfectly 58·8 per cent. for 1859, 60·9 per cent. for 1860, both results tending to show the advance of instruction among the class from which the committals take place. Of those who could read and write well, the proportion was ·2 per cent. less in 1860 than in 1859, there having been a more considerable decrease for the latter year as compared with each of the two preceding years, thus tending to show that as instruction advances crime becomes less frequent. Of those of superior instruction the small proportion of ·3 per cent. has continued the same for the last four years.

The number, class, and character of the persons committed to the different local prisons in the year having been now referred to, the next considerations are as to the disposal, whether by removal, discharge, or death, or remaining in the same custody, of the whole number detained in these prisons during the year; the state and capacity of the prisons; the amount of sickness among the prisoners; the punishments inflicted for prison offences; the establishments; and the costs of the prisons.

Capacity of the Prisons, (Table,

Notwithstanding the decrease in the number of commitments, which has been before mentioned, amounting to 8·4 per cent. for the year, the numbers remaining under detention at the close of the year almost equalled (they were less by 9) the number at its commencement. This is accounted for, as appears from the Table, by a decrease in the number removed to the convict and other prisons and in the number discharged on termination of sentence or commitment. In the preceding year there was a decrease in the number remaining in prison at the close of the year amounting to 13·0 per cent.

The greatest number of prisoners under confinement at one time, and also the daily average of prisoners in the year, were both less in 1860 than in the preceding year, the former in the proportion of 5·5 per cent. and the latter of 6·5 per cent. The prisons, also, have been rendered capable since the previous year of containing an increase of numbers amounting to 2,166 or 7·8 per cent., as may be seen from the following Table on a comparison with the similar statement for 1859.

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.

Greatest number of prisoners confined at one time	14,989	4,567	19,556
TOTAL—Males and Females.
Daily average of prisoners in the year	15,620

The aggregate number which the prisons are constructed to contain being so much in excess not only of the daily average of the prisoners, but also of the greatest number confined at one time, it might be inferred that in no instance would overcrowding be found. A reference, however, to the Table at p. 75 will show that at Sandwich and at Newcastle-upon-Tyne not only the greatest number confined at one time but also the daily average considerably exceeded the numbers which the prisons are constructed to contain. In twenty-five other prisons, also, the Table shows that the greatest number at one time was in excess, generally only to a small extent, in some instances with regard to both sexes, in others to one only, of the numbers for which the prisons are constructed. The worst cases after the above-mentioned will be found to be Chester (City), Plymouth, Hexham, Portsmouth, Scarborough, and Haverfordwest.

Insanity	111	36	147	135	115
Greatest number of sick at one time	1,253	467	1,720	2,042	2,011

Notwithstanding the decrease in the number of prisoners the number of deaths in 1860 exceeded by 3 the number in the preceding year. Among the males there was an increase of 13 deaths as compared with 1859, among the females a decrease of 10.

In 1859 the total deaths were in the proportion of 1 in 904·9 of the prisoners, reckoning upon the number in prison at the commencement of the year and those committed during the year; in 1860 they were 1 in 808·9. Among the males separately the deaths in 1859 were 1 in 896·9 of the male prisoners, reckoning as before; in 1860, 1 in 726·4. Among the females in 1859, 1 in 929·5 of the number of female prisoners; in 1860, 1 in 1,190.

The infirmary cases were in 1860 in the proportion of 1 in 33·9 of the prisoners; in 1859, 1 in 34·9.

The cases of slight indisposition were 1 in every 3·3 of the prisoners in each year.

In the cases of insanity there was a very considerable increase in 1860, as well on comparison with 1859, as with the average numbers for the two preceding periods of five years.

The punishments for offences committed in the prisons, especially the severer punishments of whipping and irons, show a continued decrease in number.

Prison Punishments, (Table, p. 75.)

In 1860 whipping, which is confined to the males, was inflicted upon 1 in every 1497·6 of the male prisoners, calculating upon the number in prison at the commencement of the year added to the number committed during the year; in 1859 upon 1 in every 1004·8. In 1860, 1 in every 2161·5 of the total number of prisoners, calculating as before, was put in irons. This punishment is not confined to the males, and the females bear the larger proportion of it. Among the males the cases were in the proportion of 1 in every 2,704; among the females 1 in every 1380·4, showing that it was almost twice as frequent among the latter.

In 1859, 1 in every 1645·1 of the total number of prisoners was put in irons. Among the males separately 1 in every 1973·2; among the females 1 in every 1098·8.

The total punishments were 1 in every 3·8 of the total number of prisoners, calculated as above, for 1860; for 1859, 1 in every 3·05.

A decrease of 14 is shown in the number of prison officers for 1860, reducing the proportion to one officer for 6·5 of the daily average number of prisoners, the proportion having been, in 1859, 1 officer to 6·9 prisoners. In 1858, it was 1 to 7·8.

the buildings, of the establishment of officers, and of the prisoners, with the different items under each head. Accommodation having been provided for a larger number of prisoners, as has been already stated, the increase of expenditure is consequently found chiefly under the head of new buildings, additions, and alterations. A larger amount was also expended in repayment of money borrowed, &c. The total of the ordinary annual charges is also larger, with some variation under the different items. Under the head of officers, the total again is greater, although in the item of salaries and fees there is a small decrease. Under the head of prisoners the total is less, a decrease being shown in the amount for diet, &c. The total difference in the costs for the two years amounts to 39,660*l.* 12*s.* 1*d.* or about 8·0 per cent.

The average of 26*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.* exceeds the average for 1859 in the proportion of 7·7 per cent., and the averages of the two preceding years 1858 and 1857 in a still greater proportion. This may be accounted for in a great degree by the decrease in the daily average of prisoners while the establishment of prison officers continues nearly the same. The price of provisions has also no doubt its effect. In several of the prisons, both County and Borough, the average will be found to be extraordinarily high. In Oakham County Goal and House of Correction 88*l.* 19*s.* 0*d.* In Lincoln County Gaol and House of Correction, where in 1859 it was 60*l.* 9*s.* 4*d.*, it has risen to 83*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.* in 1860. In Stamford Borough Prison it is 87*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.* in 1860; at King's Lynn 86*l.* 11*s.* 2*d.* The most striking of all, however, is the Gaol and House of Correction for the Liberty of Ripon where the average is no less than 156*l.* 4*s.* 4*d.*; for the preceding year it was 60*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.* In this prison, with an establishment consisting of Governor, Chaplain, Surgeon, and Warder, the total annual cost varies little in the two years, but in 1860 the daily average of prisoners amounted to only two.

The contrast between these high averages and the low rates in other prisons is remarkable. In the County Goal and House of Correction at Tynemouth the average for 1860 was 16*l.* 13*s.* 1*d.* In the County Gaol and House of Correction at Winchester 18*l.* 6*s.* 4*d.* At Haverfordwest 18*l.* 7*s.* 8*d.* In the Town Gaol and House of Correction at Kingston-upon-Hull 17*l.* 16*s.* 7*d.* In the Halifax Debtors' Prison 18*l.* 6*s.* 9*d.*

The convict prisons, ten in number, afford accommodation for 8,422 prisoners, 7,051 males and 1,371 females. These prisons, constructed and maintained at the sole expense of government, are appropriated to the imprisonment of convicts under sentence of penal servitude, and to them are removed from the local prisons, as a general rule, and subject to medical examination, all prisoners sentenced to such punishment at the assizes and quarter sessions. The prisons are Millbank and Pentonville, for the separate confinement of convicts undergoing the first stage of discipline; the former having accommodation for 600 males and 550 females, the latter for 561 males; Portland, with accommodation for 1,520 males; Portsmouth for 1,020; and Chatham for 1,100, for prisoners employed on public works, undergoing the second stage of discipline; Dartmoor, for 1,206 invalid males, capable only of light labour; and Woking, to which prison the invalid establishment has been entirely removed from Lewis, space being temporarily allotted in the prison for 100 able-bodied convicts, in addition to 395 invalids; and Parkhurst, for 549 convicted boys, undergoing reformatory discipline. The two remaining prisons at Brixton and Fulham are for female convicts, the former having accommodation for 645, and the latter for 176. In the county prisons at Wakefield and Leicester cells are also provided at the expense of government, for the confinement of male convicts, in the former for 412, in the latter 112. The convicts detained there are calculated in the returns for the respective prisons. The returns for the ten convict prisons, are made as in former

The numbers received from the county and borough prisons, exceed the numbers received in the previous year by 166,—43 males and 123 females. This, added to the larger number, undergoing punishment at the commencement of the year as compared with the previous year, makes an excess in the total for the year 1860 of 390, equal to 3·6 per cent. Owing however to the greater number disposed of during the latter year, the number remaining in confinement at the end of the year was less than in the former year by 58, or nearly 0·8 per cent. The total daily average was also less in the proportion of nearly 0·7 per cent. The increase in the numbers disposed of will be found chiefly in the number discharged on the termination of sentence and on commutation of sentence, 9·4 per cent., and on tickets of leave 56·7 per cent. The number of deaths was also greater: 8 prisoners are returned as having escaped, there having been only three under this head for the previous year. The removals beyond sea amounted only to 281, to the Island of Bermuda; the numbers for the three preceding years having been respectively, for 1859, 364; 1858, 1,390; 1857, 1,032.

The deaths in the year were 100,—85 males and 15 females, or 1 in every 107·7 of the total number of prisoners for the year, which is a rather larger proportionate number than for the preceding year, the returns for which show one death in every 119·3 prisoners. Of these 100 deaths, however, 31, or 1 in 22·5, occurred in the invalid establishment, and 25, or 1 in 75·3, among the weakly prisoners at Dartmoor, having only 44 cases among the other 8 prisons, or an average of 1 death in 268·8 of the total number of convicts in those prisons. Among the males the deaths were 1 in 106·6, among the females 1 in 114·3. The infirm cases were,—males 6,100, or 1 for every 1·5 prisoners: females 519, or 1 for 3·3. Taking the cases of slight indisposition, there were, on an average, 16 to each male: to each female only 6·3. From these results, the smaller amount of sickness among the females, which has been remarked in former years, is still observable.

The prison punishments during the year were,—whipping, 53 males; solitary or dark cells, 500 males, 583 females; stoppage of diet, 2,622 males, 426 females; other punishments, 3,104 males, 302 females; making a total of 6,279 males, and 1,311 females, a considerable decrease in the number of punishments, as compared with the preceding year, and, as regards the males, a decrease in the number of punishments in proportion to the number of prisoners; although, as regards the females, there is an increase, both in the number of punishments and also in the proportionate number of punishments to the number of prisoners. On the whole, the punishments may be looked upon as few and lenient, considering the depraved and desperate characters of which the population of the prisons is principally composed.

The inducement to good conduct held out by the expectation of an abridgment of the term of sentence, on the grant of a ticket of leave, exercises no doubt a considerable influence towards the maintenance of discipline and order, and in lessening the necessity for punishment. The number granted last year was 581, more than double (56·6 per cent.) the number in the preceding year. From the year 1856, when 2,892 were granted, the number decreased annually,—in 1857, 922; in 1858, 312; down to 1859, when the smallest number appears, viz. 252. On the other hand an increase, commencing with 1860, may be expected to continue yearly, until the number granted in each year shall equal, or nearly so, the annual number of prisoners removed to the convict prisons. The reason of this is, that the Act of 1853 awarded shorter periods of penal servitude than the periods of transportation under the old law for similar crimes. Convicts sentenced under that Act were therefore left to complete the full term of their sentence; and as the number of convicts remaining in prison, who had been sentenced to transportation previously to the passing of that Act, gradually decreased, the number to whom tickets of leave could be granted diminished in proportion. The Act of 1857, however, having fixed the same periods of penal servitude as formerly of transportation, the convicts sentenced under that Act will in their turn, in case of proper conduct, be considered entitled to the indulgence; and the claims of those sentenced under that Act have now begun to come under consideration.

In the establishments of the prisons there is little variation from the numbers for the preceding year. The total number of officers and servants employed was less by two, a reduction having taken place in the subordinate ranks among the males, with a nearly corresponding increase in the females. The details are given in the following table:—

Value of labour on Public Works.

The proceeds of the labour of convicts paid into the Exchequer are chiefly derived from the prisons for separate confinement. At the public works' prisons at Portland, Portsmouth, and Chatham, the convicts are employed on very important works for the Admiralty and War Departments. The work thus performed is very rigidly estimated, and the most minute records of it are kept. The value of this work for the past year, it is considered, may be fairly stated to have amounted to 90,000*l.* This sum deducted from the above stated amount reduces the total costs of the prisons to 145,604*l.* 15*s.* 4*d.*; and the average charge for prisoners to 18*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.*

Reformatory Schools, (Table,
p. 92.)

The number of the Reformatory Schools had annually increased from their first institution under the statute passed in 1854 down to 1859 when 49 had been certified. The following table gives the comparative numbers certified in each year with the number of youthful offenders committed, showing that in 1860 the number had been reduced to 48, the certificates of two schools having been withdrawn within the year, and one new school having been certified. The number of commitments, however, was larger in the latter year than in any of the preceding years, with the exception of 1857, and proves an increase of 16·0 per cent. above the number for 1859. That this is to be taken as proving the further extension of the reformatory system, and not an increase of juvenile crime, is however apparent from the diminished number of the commitments to prison of juvenile offenders, which has been already shown for this year, and had been progressive for the three preceding years.

Numbers certified and Number of commitments,
1860-1854.

The numbers of certified schools and of the youthful offenders committed for each year from 1854 to 1860, inclusive, were,— 1860.	1859.	1858.	1857.	1856.	1855.	1854.

Showing that of the number sent to reformatory schools in the year 40·3 per cent. were committed for the longest period allowed by law, 22·3 per cent. for the next longest periods, 27·9 per cent. for the next, and 9·5 per cent. only for the shortest period; the terms of the sentences to previous imprisonment of 33·1 per cent. having been for 14 days, of 43·4 per cent. for 1 month or above 14 days, of 13·5 per cent. for 2 months or above 1, of 9·3 per cent. for 4 months or above 2, and of 8 individuals for more than 4 months.

The state of the reformatories in 1860 was as follows:—

The number discharged on completion of their term was greater in 1860 than in 1859 in the proportion of 31·8 per cent. The total number discharged in the proportion of 22·6 per cent. The total number discharged in 1860 was more than half (51·9 per cent.) of the number committed. In 1859 the proportion was 47·8 per cent.

The classified numbers of the previous commitments to prison of prisoners committed to the reformatories in 1860, were,—

From the foregoing table it appears that of the numbers sent to the reformatories in 1860, almost the half (49·1 per cent.) had been in prison at least once, 4 above 10 times, before the conviction, upon which they were sent to the reformatory; and consequently that the remainder, or 50·9 per cent., were sent to reformatories upon their first conviction. In 1859 the proportion of those who had been previously in prison was 51·1 per cent.

The ages of those committed in 1860, and their state of instruction when received, were—

	Aged 10 and under.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
Neither read nor write:
Males	58	59	56	62	74	80	17

The proportion of those who could neither read nor write was,—males 45·8 per cent. of the males, females 45·7 per cent. of the females. With respect to age, it will be seen that those of 16 years bore the smallest proportion to the total committed, which was 7·9 per cent.; those of 14 years the largest, viz. 20·5 per cent.; the proportion of those of 15 years of age was 19·9 per cent.; of those of 13, 15·5 per cent.; of 12, 14·9 per cent.; of 11, 10·5 per cent.; of 10 years and under 10·8 per cent.

Cost for the year 1860.

The total costs of the juvenile offenders in reformatories, paid from the public revenues at the rate of 7s. per week for each offender, amounted in 1860 to 45,539l. 10s. 10d. The amount received from the parents in diminution of the charge was 2,079l. 17s. 10d.

Middlesex Industrial School,
(Table, p. 94.)

The Middlesex Industrial School at Feltham, established under the Local Statute 17 & 18 Vict. c. 169., differs in principle from the reformatories established under the General Act on the following points,—that the commitments are made direct to the school without intervening imprisonment in gaol, and,—that the age of those committed is limited to 14 years, and the period of detention to not less than one year or more than three years. From the opening of this school in January 1859 to the 29th September of that year 75 boys were committed to it, as was stated in the statistics for the year 1859. Of this number one had escaped, leaving 74 as the number in custody on the 30th September 1859. In addition to these, 191 were committed during the following year making a total of 265. Three were discharged on the completion of their term of sentence, and one absconded and was not retaken. There therefore remained in custody at the end of the year 261.

Of those committed in the year, 28 or 14·7 per cent. were convicted on indictment; 163 or 85·3 per cent. were committed on summary conviction; the sentences of 15 or 7·9 per cent. were for two years and under; of 176 or 92·1 per cent. for three years and above two.

The table at p. 94 gives the ages of those committed in the year, their social condition and state of instruction on admission, showing that 69 or 36·1 per cent. were 10 years of age and under; 37 or 19·4 per cent. 11 years and above 10; 78 or 40·8 per cent. 12 years and above 11; 7 or 3·7 per cent. 13 years and above 12; that 68 or 35·7 per cent. had lost one of their parents, 14 or 7·3 per cent. had lost both; that 10 or 5·2 per cent. were deserted by one of their parents, one by both; that 5 or 2·6 per cent. had one parent in prison, that 5 were otherwise uncontrolled by one parent, 6 or 3·1 per cent. by both; 63 or 33 per cent. were under control of one parent, 103 or 53·9 per cent. of both parents; 51·9 per cent. could neither read nor write, 43·9 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly, 2·6 per cent. could read and write well, while 3 or 1·6 per cent. had superior instruction.

mitments, (Table,

The classified numbers of the commitments of each prisoner were as follows:—

Twice	13	Seven times and above five	3
Thrice	6	Ten times and above seven	2
Four times	3	Above ten times	1

Giving a total of 58 or 30·4 per cent. who had been previously more or less frequently committed to prison, and leaving 133 or 69·6 per cent. who had not been before committed to any prison.

DUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The cost to the county amounted to 3,870*l.* 17*s.* 11*d.* after deducting the sums received for farm produce and from the parents of children amounting together to 271*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.*, of which 188*l.* 17*s.* 3*d.* was recovered from the parents.

Costs of the

The cost per head per annum was 24*l.* 0*s.* 10½*d.*

The number of Industrial Schools certified under the Act of 20 & 21 Vict. c. 48. is the same for the year ending 29th September 1860 as for the previous year, namely 18, one additional school having been certified during the year, and the certificate of one having been withdrawn. The number of children under detention has however increased, 119 having been committed by magistrates during the year, and the number remaining in confinement at the end of the year being 166 instead of 96, the number shown by the returns for the former year. Of the 18 schools certified, 12 have received children under the provisions of the Act, 6 in London and 6 in the provinces as shown in the table at p. 94. Several of the managers however repeat their complaints that their schools although duly certified and their management approved and praised by the magistrates, have not been made use of as they had anticipated for the commitment of children. Some clearer legal definition of the class of children to be sent to these schools, or of the circumstances under which they may be committed appears to be required before the benefits to be expected are likely to be fully realized. By an Act passed in the last session of Parliament, the powers hitherto exercised by the Committee of Privy Council with regard to these schools were transferred to the Secretary of State, and the schools thus in a degree more nearly assimilated to the reformatory schools. A bill now before Parliament proposes to remedy the defects of the former Acts, both of which are intended to be repealed.

Industrial Schools,

The returns of the Criminal Lunatics under detention are continued as in the preceding years. This class of prisoners comprises,—first, those who are found on trial by jury to have been insane at the time of the commission of the offences with which they were charged; secondly, those who on being indicted for any offence are on their arraignment found to be insane by a jury empannelled for that purpose, or those who on their commitment for trial are certified to the Secretary of State to be insane and are thereupon removed to a lunatic asylum under the Statute 3 & 4 Vict. c. 54., in order to prevent the necessity of obtaining the verdict of a jury; thirdly, those committed by justices on their being apprehended under circumstances denoting insanity and a purpose to commit crime, or who are found wandering abroad without proper control; fourthly, those who have been removed from prisons, having become insane during their confinement.

having appeared in each of the preceding years 1859, 1858, and 1857. The causes which have been before suggested appear sufficient to account for this increase without supposing an increase of insanity; viz., the greater vigilance of the police in providing for the safe keeping of insane persons, and the unlimited detention of those who continue insane.

The offences for which these persons were in custody were as follows:—

Costs, (Table,
p. 95.)

The total costs of the criminal lunatics in the year were 25,541*l.* 3*s.* 1*d.*, being an increase of 2,164*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* or 8·5 per cent. upon the charges for the preceding year, the greatest increase being in the charge upon the public revenues.

These costs were defrayed from the following funds under the different circumstances of the commitments.

County Rates - - - - -	4,061	12	2
Borough Rates or Funds - - - - -	881	12	5
Parish Rates - - - - -	5,889	5	9
Public Revenues - - - - -	13,044	4	9
Private Funds - - - - -	1,664	8	0
Total - - - - -	25,541	3	1

Costs per head.

The costs per head per annum vary greatly,—from 13*l.* in the Medway Union up to 480*l.* in the Clapham Retreat; the lowest amounts being in cases provided for from county and parish rates and borough funds, the higher charges of 120*l.*, 150*l.*, 200*l.*, 385*l.*, 480*l.*, &c. being all supplied from private resources, for persons detained in metropolitan and provincial licensed houses. In the county asylums the costs are moderate, averaging 23*l.* 2*s.* per head.

With these returns the first division of the Statistics is brought to a conclusion.

The Bankruptcy Courts, and the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The history of the United States is a story of growth and change. It begins with the first settlers who came to the Americas, and continues through the years of exploration, settlement, and the struggle for independence. The story is one of a people who have built a nation of freedom and opportunity, and who have fought to protect those values through the years.

The early years of the United States were marked by a period of rapid growth and expansion. The country was founded on the principles of liberty and justice for all, and these principles have guided the nation through the challenges of the past. The story of the United States is a story of a people who have built a nation of freedom and opportunity, and who have fought to protect those values through the years.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REMARKS.

THE second part of the Judicial Statistics for 1859 included every class of courts exercising a jurisdiction for the determination of civil suits. Returns have been again received from all the courts, showing the details of the proceedings in the same form for 1860. The returns are fully given in the tables at the end under the same arrangement as before. In the introductory part a summary will be found in each case, with, generally, a comparison between the years 1860 and 1859, beyond the latter mentioned of which, the returns having been for the first time completed for that year, the materials for comparison do not in all cases exist. As the nature of the business of the different courts and the forms of procedure continue the same from year to year, and have been already described and explained in the Statistics for the preceding years, any description or explanation now given respecting them must be for the most part repetition. It may however be found convenient in many instances, for facility of reference, to have this repetition. It is only in the number of causes and amount of business generally that variation can occur or comparison be made, at the same time that any change of form or procedure which may arise, such as for instance what may be expected with regard to the Court of Bankruptcy, will, of course, require to be provided for by corresponding alteration in the form and arrangement of the Statistics.

The superior courts of Common Law are placed first, and the carefully prepared returns furnished by the different officers afford full details of the proceedings of each court. The jurisdiction on the plea side is generally common to the three courts, and under the same form of procedure. The peculiar jurisdiction exercised by the Court of Queen's Bench on the Crown side is shown in a separate table. The total proceedings under this jurisdiction for each of the years 1860 and 1859 were as follows:—

With regard to the similar jurisdiction of the three courts, it is to be recollected that, as was remarked last year, from the chief officers or departments of each court the whole of the information which appertains to each respectively is obtained, and that for the convenience of further reference, the tabular arrangement by which this plan was carried out is followed. The business is abstracted under each form of procedure and process, the three courts being brought into comparison, and the totals shown. The following summary extracted from the returns made by the Masters shows the amount of the chief proceedings of each of the three courts on the Plea side in the year 1860, the totals of the similar proceedings in the preceding year being added, and proves an increase in 1860 under every head except writs of capias and causes referred to Masters. The amount of fees was also in excess in 1860, in the proportion of 9 per cent.

The number of suits commenced in each of the courts is shown by the number of writs of summons issued, while the diminished number of appearances entered proves the large proportion of the claims, (73·7 per cent. of the total number in 1860, 72·4 per cent. in 1859,) which were settled without coming to trial.

Causes for trial.

The proceedings next appear as returned by the Associates on their entry for trial. The following abstract shows the number of causes entered for trial in each of the Courts at Westminster, and on Circuit, with the omission however of 44 causes entered for trial on Circuit in the Common Pleas of Lancaster, 8 in the Court of Pleas of Durham, and 2 issues from the Court of Probate, which are included in the tables at p. 138.

The totals for 1859 are given with the table, but to these must be added 33 suits entered in the Common Pleas of Lancaster, 4 in the Court of Pleas of Durham, and two issues from the Court of Probate. It will be seen that the number entered for trial was less, while the number of trials was considerably greater, both as regards the Courts at Westminster and the Circuits, in 1860 than in the preceding year.

The total number of suits shown in the corresponding table for 1859, was Westminster 1,132, Nisi Prius 1,042.

The number of suits tried at Nisi Prius on each Circuit was: Home Circuit 178; Midland Circuit 96; Norfolk Circuit 68; Oxford Circuit 135; Northern 113; Western 96; South Wales 34; North Wales 39; Lancashire Common Pleas 186; Durham Common Pleas 30. The numbers in 1859 were: Home Circuit 207; Midland (not stated); Norfolk 44; Oxford 125; Northern 109; Western 122; South Wales 15; North Wales (not stated); Lancashire 184; Durham 30.

The judgments as shown by the Masters' returns for the Courts at Westminster, including without distinction the judgments in the cases tried both there and on circuit, were as follows in 1860, the total being added for the preceding year :

Showing an increase in the total number in the proportion of nearly 10·0 per cent. in 1860 as compared with 1859. With respect to the judgments it may be well to repeat the remark made in last year's Statistics, that it depends on the parties for whom verdicts are given at Nisi Prius, to make application for the return of the issues into the courts at Westminster, but that in some cases a compromise is made after the verdict, and no further proceedings appear.

Forms of verdict.

The nature and results of the causes tried are shown,—with regard to the courts at Westminster, in the returns made by the Associates of the respective courts; and with regard to the circuits, in the table compiled from the returns furnished by the clerks of assize, and clerks of the Crown in the counties palatine. The following abstract shows the manner in which the whole of the Nisi Prius cases were disposed of, including those tried in the Common Pleas Courts of Lancaster and Durham, the total for the year 1859 being added :

The judgments being subject to revision by the courts sitting in banco, on motions for new trial, or to enter or alter verdict, or for nonsuit, or arrest of judgment, or non obstante veredicto, it appears that of the 35,175 judgments obtained in 1860, in 554 cases such motions were made; in other words, in one in every 63·4 of the cases a revision of the judgment was applied for. These 554 motions were thus disposed of:—

An analysis of the issue of the proceedings similar to that given last year shows that 97,568 writs of summons were issued, that only 25,582 appearances were entered, and consequently that 73·7 per cent. of the suits (a rather greater proportion than in the preceding year) were uncontested. Of the foregoing number of cases in which appearances were entered 3,222 only were entered for trial, the suits being thus further reduced by 12·5 per cent.; of these only 2,101 were actually tried (8·6 per cent. of which were at the last undefended). There remained, therefore, for the decision of a jury 2·1 per cent. only of the suits commenced, the proportion being within a small fraction the same as in the preceding year.

Issue of the proceedings.

The issue of the suits is not however represented by the above mentioned decisions. Under the various forms of procedure judgments were obtained, as has been already shown, in 35,175 cases or in 36·0 per cent. of the suits commenced. Here again the proportion is almost identical in the two years, it having been 36·3 per cent. in 1859. For the enforcement of these judgments writs were issued in 25,755 cases, in 63·9 per cent. of the cases against the goods, in 33·7 per cent. against the person of the defendant, and in the remaining 2·4 per cent. of the cases under the other forms above specified. The remainder of the suits commenced must have been settled by the parties themselves, or were not pursued, and do not appear on the record.

It must be again remarked that civil suits, which are brought by individuals to enforce their own private rights and claims, may be terminated at any stage by the withdrawal of the plaintiff or the submission of the defendant, and under various conditions, without any fixed period between the proceedings. Causes may thus be lost sight of, rendering impracticable the exact agreement of the separate returns made by the different branches of the court of the proceedings peculiar to each, at the same time that the value of the Statistics, which accurately represent the issues so far as they become matters of legal record, is not hereby in any degree lessened.

Business in

The business in Chambers is given by the Chamber Clerks of each of the five Judges of each of the three Courts of Common Law, in returns showing the amount of business in the Chambers of each Judge in every Quarter. The following summary shows the extent of the business in the Chambers of all the Judges of each court under the different heads, with the totals for the year 1860, the totals of the preceding year also being added.

COUNTY COURTS,
(Table, p. 140.)
Jurisdiction of the Courts.

The County Courts, established in 1847, under the Act passed in the previous year, (the 9 & 10 Vict. c. 95.) now exercise a jurisdiction for the recovery of debts, as extended, to the amount of 50*l.*, by statute, and above that amount by agreement between the parties, on consent given in writing. Further jurisdiction has been given to these courts in matters relating to Insolvency, the proceedings with regard to which will be found under the head of Insolvent Debtors' Court; also, for the arrest of absconding debtors under the Charitable Trusts Act, and with respect to orders made by Justices under the 20 & 21 Vict. c. 85, for the protection of the property of females deserted by their husbands. The proceedings with respect to these matters, are given in the table. They have also jurisdiction in contentious cases relating to probates or administration of wills, the proceedings with respect to which are included in the returns made by the district registrars of the Court of Probate. Under the County Courts Act the whole of England was divided into 60 circuits, each presided over by a separate Judge. By the absorption of one of these into the adjacent circuits, the number has been reduced to 59, in which courts are held at 502 different places. Six of the circuits, namely, that for the City of Manchester and five of the Metropolitan Districts, have only one court each; in the other circuits the number of places at which courts are held varies from 2 to 16 in each circuit. In the circuit No. 6, in which the Borough of Liverpool is included with two other places, and in which the largest amount of business is transacted, two judges are appointed.

In the returns for 1860 the plaints have been distinguished into those not exceeding 20*l.* and those above that amount; of the former, there were 773,415; of the latter 8,911.

The total number of plaints and the proceedings generally with respect to the recovery of debts are shown as follows for the year 1860, in comparison with the preceding year :

	1860.	1859.	COUNTY COURTS.

Amount of Costs	38,303	37,628
Total amount of Fees on all proceedings	£226,731	£215,623

The foregoing shows a considerable increase in the number of plaintiffs, and in the amount for which they were entered. On the large number entered in 1859, the increase in 1860 was 67,761, or 8·7 per cent. Of these plaintiffs 49·6 per cent. were determined in court; 99·7 per cent. of those determined were decided by the judge without the intervention of a jury; the assistance of a jury having been taken only in 1 case in 434. The judgments in the two years were very nearly in the same proportions; in 1860, 63·5 per cent., nearly, were for the plaintiff; 32·5 per cent., nearly, for plaintiff by consent; nearly 0·2 per cent. for plaintiff by default, leaving less than 4·0 per cent. nearly equally divided between nonsuits and judgments for the defendant. In 96·1 per cent. of the total number of cases the issue was for the plaintiff. In the number of judgment summonses, there was a decrease in 1860, as compared with 1859, in those issued in the proportion of 5·5 per cent.; in those heard of, 7·7. In the number of warrants of commitment issued, also, there was a decrease, amounting to 4,885, or in the proportion of 17·8 per cent. In the number of debtors imprisoned a decrease of 2,048, or in the proportion of 22·7 per cent. In the number of executions against goods, there was an increase in the proportion of 9·9 per cent.; and in the number of sales made, an increase in the proportion of 5·0 per cent.

In the amount for which plaintiffs were entered, the increase in 1860 was 127,076*l.*, or 6·8 per cent. The average amount for each plaintiff was 2*l.* 8*s.* 1*d.* in 1860; 2*l.* 9*s.* 1*d.* in 1859. The amount of the judgments obtained, exclusive of costs, was less than half (48·0 per cent.) of the amount sought to be recovered. Of these judgments, 272,894 were in cases of 40*s.* and under; 78,321 for 5*l.* and above 40*s.*; 28,185 for 10*l.* and above 5*l.*; 11,406 for 20*l.* and above 10*l.*; 3,655 for 50*l.* and above 20*l.*; and 17, by consent of both parties, above 50*l.*

With regard to the jurisdiction of the county courts in other matters, in 1860, there were 50 warrants under the Act of the 14 & 15 Vict. c. 52., to arrest absconding debtors, in one case bail was given, in 12 cases, the debt and costs were paid, in 10 the warrants were suspended. Under the Charitable Trusts Act, 137 matters were heard, 133 orders granting relief were made. In 1859, these numbers were respectively 140 and 137.

Six hundred and eleven protection orders to women deserted by their husbands were registered; 4 of the orders were, on hearing, discharged. In 1859, 719 of these orders were registered; 6 were, on hearing, discharged.

Borough, Hundred, and Manorial Courts, (Table, p. 142.)

The new county courts having in a great measure superseded the courts of ancient jurisdiction for the recovery of small debts, of whatever class, which existed up to the establishment of the former in 1847, it remains only to refer to such of these courts, whether Borough, Hundred, or Manorial, or under any other name, as still exercise jurisdiction, or are not considered to be wholly extinct. The names of 34 courts are given in the table; but in eight of these no proceedings took place in 1860; from one court only, namely, the Wakefield Manor Court, no answer has been received to the inquiries which were made, leaving it doubtful whether the court should not be considered as entirely extinct. In the court at Bradford, from which no return had been received in previous years, 732 of the smaller class of plaints were entered. From three other courts, and these important courts of their class, viz., the Tolzey Court of Bristol, the Court of Passage at Liverpool, and the Burgess and Non-Burgess Courts at Newcastle-on-Tyne, not hitherto included in the Statistics, returns have been made for 1860, and besides these it is not known that any other courts exist in which proceedings are taken. The plaints entered in these courts have been distinguished, as in the County Courts, into those not exceeding 20*l.* and those above that amount, the latter being to the former in the proportion of 13 per cent. In eight of the courts the amount of business is unimportant, averaging only 23 suits; in the Oswestry Court of Record one plaint only was entered, for the recovery of 1*l.*, and the result has not been stated. In the Ipswich Guildhall Court three plaints were entered for sums exceeding 20*l.* each, but neither the exact amounts nor the results are given; in the remaining six of these eight courts, the average amount for which plaints were entered was 634*l.* The total amount for which plaints were entered in all these courts (including "Writs issued" in the Manchester and Salford Courts) was 157,919*l.*, exclusive of the Liverpool Court of Passages, where it is stated that no record is kept of this particular, and where judgments were obtained for 56,667*l.* In the Court of the Sheriff of London, the amount of business is considerable, exceeding that in several of the county court circuits. This court, though of ancient jurisdiction, has been regulated by an Act passed in 1852, (15 Vict. c. 77.) by which the proceedings are assimilated to those of the county courts in matters relating to debts. It has not however the extended jurisdiction of the county courts with respect to insolvency and other matters; and being under a special act, and not under the general County Courts Act, it could not be classed with the County Courts, and appears to find its place more properly with the Borough, &c., Courts.

The total amount of debt for which judgments were obtained in all these Courts in 1860, was 115,362*l.* The amount of costs was 13,799*l.* The amount of fees on all proceedings 11,102*l.*

Lord Mayor's Court, (Table, p. 143.)

The various proceedings in the Lord Mayor's Court, London, for the year 1860, are shown in the table, as copied from the returns made by the Registrar of the court, and appear to prove an increase generally in the business transacted, and in the amount of claims or debts, as compared with the preceding year. With reference to the amount sought to be recovered in foreign attachments, which appears very large in 1860, the Registrar explains that this arises from the adventitious circumstance of one plaint of 150,000*l.* having been entered a second time, in consequence of its having been first entered in wrong names.

Stannaries Courts, (Table, p. 143.)

The Stannaries Courts have been described by the Registrar of the Stannaries as existing by custom, confirmed and extended by Statutes 6 & 7 Will. IV. c. 106. and 18 & 19 Vict. c. 32., the jurisdiction extending over mines, mine companies, and miners in the counties of Cornwall and Devon. Process may be served, and decrees and judgments executed directly, or through the superior Courts, throughout England and Wales, in the cases provided for by the Acts above mentioned. The Court exercises an equity and a common law jurisdiction, and has also an exclusive jurisdiction for winding up mining companies incorporated under the Act 19th and 20th Vict. c. 47.

The proceedings of the court for the year 1860 are fully given in the table, it appearing that no causes were tried under the common law jurisdiction in respect of the county of Devon.

The amount of business does not appear to have varied in a material degree in the years 1859 and 1860.

The returns of the proceedings in the bankruptcy courts for the year 1860, with the continued and highly valued assistance of the Chief Registrar of the court in London, have been made to show the same details as the returns for the preceding year, the proceedings in bankruptcy, the proceedings under private arrangements under the control of the court without bankruptcy, and the proceedings for winding up joint stock companies being distinguished separately as before, and a further table being added, in the same form, to show the proceedings under the statutes for making arrangements between debtors not being traders and their creditors. It should be remembered that the returns, as was explained last year, show the actual business transacted in the year under each head, without reference as to whether such business relates solely to the cases commenced or terminated within the year.

The total proceedings in the London court and the seven provincial courts, with regard to the proceedings in bankruptcy simply, which formed the original jurisdiction of the court, were, for the years 1860 and 1859 respectively, as follows:—

Bankruptcies
(p 144.)

Showing an increase in the number of petitions in 1860 of upwards of one fourth (25·7 per cent.) as compared with the number in 1859.

The number of persons declared bankrupt under these proceedings, whether trading singly or in partnership, was 1,430, being an increase of 376, or 26·3 per cent. on the number for the preceding year. Of these 1,430, 1,028 passed their last examination, being a smaller proportion of the whole number than in 1859 (84·7 per cent. in 1859; 71·9 per cent. in 1860). The total amount of the debts upon their balance sheets was 4,478,037*l.*, and the number of bankruptcies classed as follows:

Under 300 l. -	28	10,000 l. and under 20,000 l. -	35

Amount of debts.

The above debt averages in each case 4,356*l.*; in 1859 the average in each case was 4,081*l.*

Of this large amount in 1860 1,249,962*l.* or 27*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.* per cent. on the balance sheets was realized by the court. In the preceding year the amount realized was 1,057,834*l.*, or 29*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.* per cent. on the balance sheets. After the deduction of 169,306*l.* for special charges, liens, rents, taxes, &c., owing by the bankrupts' estates at the time of adjudication, 1,080,656*l.* was received by the official assignees for administration in 1860. The amount of deduction in 1859 was 118,641*l.* and the amount for administration 939,193*l.* The charges attendant upon the administration in 1860 are stated as follows:—

These expenses and charges reduce the amount for administration 30·5 per cent. almost. From the remainder was further deducted 9,434 $\frac{1}{2}$ l. for the discharge of debts payable in full, leaving the sum of 741,782 $\frac{1}{2}$ l. available for dividends to the other creditors, this sum averaging 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ l. 11s. 5d. per cent. on the total debts in the balance sheets, and 78 $\frac{1}{2}$ l. 19s. 7d. per cent. on the amount received by the official assignees for administration.

The apparent causes of the bankruptcies of the bankrupts whose certificates were adjudicated upon, as noted by the commissioners in going through the cases for the award of the certificates are given in the returns as follows:—

Interest, discount, accommodation bills, suretyship	-	-	-	144

Showing that in 82·3 per cent of the cases, the bankruptcies were occasioned by the fault, the folly, or the misconduct, of the bankrupts, while in 17·7 per cent only of the cases did they arise from causes beyond the control of the parties themselves.

The total number of appeals on the foregoing amount of business was 45. In 13 of the cases, the original judgments were affirmed; in 11 reversed; in 7 varied; and 14 were left pending or abandoned.

showing little variation from the proportion for the preceding year.

The amount of the dividend per cent, calculated on the amount of debts in the balance sheets, is given in the following tables for each court in 1860 and 1859 respectively, showing a wide difference in both years, in the proportion of the dividends ordered in the several courts, the amount of the dividends ordered depending of course on the amount of the estates realized. In the year 1860 in the London court, where the proportion per cent. of the business was highest, the amount per cent. of the dividend ordered was lowest; in other words, in this district where the amount of bankruptcy business is greatest, the proportionate amount of the estates realized is least, and consequently the loss to the creditors in each case, greater than in the other districts.

Under the Statute 12 & 13 Vict. c. 106., traders unable to meet their engagements may submit their affairs to private arrangement, under the control of the court, without bankruptcy, and may obtain protection for person and property until further order, and release, if in prison for debt.

showing a large increase in the number for 1860.

The total amount of debts in the balance sheets or accounts filed by the petitioners in 1860 was £1,341,424: in 1859 the amount was £921,154. The classification of these debts in each of the years was as follows:

		1860.	1859.

It should be recollected that, as was explained last year, the amount of these debts bears no relation to the gross produce of the estates, in cases where the official assignee is trustee alone or jointly with others, (returned in 1860 as £36,926). The debts in the balance sheets refer to all cases in which the petitioners have filed their accounts, but the monies received relate only to those cases in which the official assignees have been appointed by the resolutions as the trustees, or the parties to pay any composition. In other cases, where the estates have been assigned to or have vested in trustees, or a composition is paid by the petitioning trader without the intervention of the official assignees, the estates are practically withdrawn from the control of the court, and the accounts of the administration of the estates are not passed or filed in court.

Dividend or composition.

The total amount received by the official assignees for administration in 1860 was 39,321*l*. In 1859 the amount was 43,541*l*. The expenses of administration, which are given in detail in the tables, were, in 1860, 5,475*l*., or 13*l*. 18*s*. 5*d*. per cent.; in 1859, 6,057*l*., or 13*l*. 8*s*. 2*d*. per cent. The dividends or composition—after the payment, for special charges and deductions, mortgages, liens, rents, taxes, &c., of 2,346*l*. in 1860, in 1859 of 3,268*l*.; and of 89*l*. in 1860, 4,117*l*. in 1859, for debts payable in full—were at the following rates for each year respectively:—

In 1860 eighty certificates were granted of the approval of the resolutions or agreements of creditors under section 216 of the Bankrupt Law Consolidation Act, 1849. 20 certificates were granted of the resolutions or agreements having been carried into effect. Six petitions were filed for arrangement by deed. Five orders were made declaring that the deeds or memoranda of arrangement had been duly executed. There was one appeal, the result of which is not stated.

Debtors not being Traders, (Table,
p. 146.)

The Statute 7th & 8th Vict. c. 70: provides for making arrangements between debtors not being traders and their creditors, such debtors not being in custody, and for protecting them in the mean time from arrest.

By the Statute 23d and 24th Vict. c. 147., the provisions of the former statute are extended to the same class of debtors who may be in custody. The latter statute having received the Royal Assent on the 28th August 1860, its provisions were available only during the last four months of the year comprised in the present Statistics.

Number of petitions.

Under these statutes twenty-four petitions were filed during the year, 13 of which were by debtors not in custody, to 11 of whom orders of protection were granted. Eleven petitions were filed by debtors in custody, to seven of whom orders of discharge from custody, with protection, were granted.

The petitioners came under the following classification: professional men 7; officers in the army and navy 4; clerks 4; other classes 9.

The amount of debts in the schedules or accounts filed by the petitioners was 45,961*l.*, giving an average of 1,915*l.* in each case.

The classification of the debts was as follows, so far as given in the returns:—

Eight certificates were granted by the court of the approval of the resolutions or agreements of creditors for the protection of the petitioners from arrest.

The proceedings for the dissolution and winding-up of joint stock companies and other partnerships unable to meet their pecuniary engagements complete the detail of the business of the Bankruptcy courts. This class of business continues to be chiefly confined to the London court, and was as follows in each of the years 1860 and 1859.

INSOLVENT
DEBTORS' COURTS,

The insolvency laws provide for the relief of debtors of all classes not within the operation of the bankrupt laws, including traders whose debts do not exceed 300*l*.

The returns comprise the proceedings of the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in London, and of the County Courts in insolvency matters. The jurisdiction of the court in London extends to the cases of all imprisoned debtors who file petitions for relief under the statute 1 & 2 Vict. c. 110, the cases of all those detained in any gaol in the counties of Middlesex and Surrey, the city of London and the borough of Southwark, being exclusively dealt with by the London court, while the cases of insolvents confined in any prison beyond those limits are referred to the hearing and determination of the county courts, the judges of which are then empowered to discharge or remand the prisoner, and to do all things requisite with regard to his schedule, the realization of his property, and the apportionment of dividends, in the same manner as the commissioners of the court in London.

In the year 1860, 2,820 petitions were filed in the cases of imprisoned debtors, 19 of which were filed by creditors. Of these, 820 were within the exclusive jurisdiction of the court in London; 2,000 were cases of insolvents imprisoned beyond those limits; 134 of the insolvents were professional men; 23 officers in the army or navy; 91 were clerks; 1,634 traders; 15 lodging-house keepers; 52 shopmen; 222 agents; 69 manufacturers; 197 mechanics; 97 graziers, farmers, millers, &c.; and 286 belonging to other classes. In 1859 the number of petitions filed was 2,765, proving an increase of 55 petitions in the year 1860, or 1·6 per cent. on the number in 1859, a decrease of 19·8 per cent. having taken place in the latter year as compared with 1858.

The number of schedules filed in 1860 was 2,747, of which 795 were in cases within the court in London, 1,952 in cases beyond its limits.

The classification of the debts in the cases in which schedules were filed was,—

Under 100 l .	-	-	-	-	251
100 l . and under 300 l .	-	-	-	-	759

3,000 l .	„	5,000 l .	-	-	76
5,000 l . and above	-	-	-	-	62

In 55·7 of the cases the amount of debt in each was under 500*l*. Of the whole number of insolvents almost one-fourth (24·8 per cent.) had previously been insolvent or bankrupt; 526 or 19·1 per cent. once; 119 or 4·3 per cent. twice; 24 three times; and 14 more than three times. These proportions in the preceding year were nearly the same.

The following table shows the number of prisoners who appeared before the Insolvent Court and the County Courts respectively, and the results in both cases:—

Estates realized.

The duty of realizing and distributing the estates of the insolvents belongs to the officers of the respective courts, those realized in the County Courts being returned to the court in London.

The number of estates realized in 1860 was 248, the amount of dividend declared thereon 36,038*l.* 3*s.* 6*d.*; 129 of the estates and 20,247*l.* 14*s.* 2*d.* dividend were within the jurisdiction of the court in London, 119 estates with 15,790*l.* 9*s.* 4*d.* dividend, beyond that limit.

The expenses of the administration and other payments, the details of which are given in the table, amounted to 6,114*l.* 10*s.* 3*d.* of which amount 3,203*l.* 19*s.* 9*d.* fell to the London jurisdiction, 2,910*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* to the County Courts. The amount which remained for dividend was 29,923*l.* 13*s.* 3*d.*, upon scheduled debts amounting to 535,612*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.*, of which 316,371*l.* 19*s.* 1*d.* was ascertained for dividend. Each estate realized averaged therefore 145*l.* 6*s.* 3*d.*, the expenses of administration 24*l.* 13*s.* 1*d.* (in the London jurisdiction 24*l.* 16*s.* 8*d.*, in the County Courts 24*l.* 9*s.* 2*d.*), the amount for dividend 120*l.* 13*s.* 2*d.*

The dividends averaged 5*l.* 11*s.* 0*d.* per cent. on the amount of the scheduled debts, and 9*l.* 8*s.* 0*d.* per cent. on the amount ascertained for dividend, and were at the following rates in the pound in each case:—

Under 1 s.	-	-	-	86		10 s. and under 15 s.	-	-	3
1 s. and under 2 s. 6 d.	-	-	-	89		15 s. „ 20 s.	-	-	4
2 s. 6 d. and under 5 s.	-	-	-	45		20 s.	-	-	4
5 s. and under 10 s.	-	-	-	17

In 26 other cases with scheduled debts amounting to 37,308*l.* 10*s.* 1*d.* (16 cases and 24,431*l.* 4*s.* 9*d.* debt in the London jurisdiction, and 10 cases with 12,877*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.* debt in the country) the debts were satisfied during the year, the debtor showing all to have been paid or released.

A comparison with the preceding year shows an increase of 52 or 21·0 per cent. in the number of estates realized, and of 4,477*l.* or 12·5 per cent. in the amount of dividend declared. The expenses of the administration for 1860 exceeded those for 1859 by 897*l.* or 16·6 per cent., the amount left for dividend was 3,580*l.* or 12·0 per cent. more in 1860 than in 1859; the amount of scheduled debts in 1860 exceeded the amount in 1859 by 222,129*l.* or 41·5 per cent.; the amount ascertained for dividend in 1860 exceeded the amount in 1859 by 109,765*l.* or 34·7 per cent.; the average of each estate realized was less in 1860 than in the preceding year by 16*l.* or in the proportion of 9·9 per cent.; the average of the expenses of administration was less by 1*l.* 19*s.* 4*d.*; the average amount of dividend was less in 1860 by 2*l.* 17*s.* 0*d.* per cent., on the amount of scheduled debts, and by 3*l.* 7*s.* 0*d.* per cent. on the amount ascertained for dividend.

Under the provisions of the Protection Acts 5 & 6 Vict. c. 116. and 7 & 8 Vict. c. 96., any trader whose debts are less than 300*l.* (and other debtors) may, on filing a petition with a full schedule of his debts annexed, and a statement of the amount of his property and of the moneys owing to him, obtain an order preventing him from arrest. His property is then vested in assignees and is realized and distributed as in other cases of insolvency.

The Insolvent Debtors' Court exercises jurisdiction under these Acts in all cases where the debtor resides within 20 miles of the General Post Office, the County Courts in all other cases.

The number of petitions and schedules filed under these Acts in the year 1860 was 3,081, of which 1,055 or 34·1 per cent. were in the London jurisdiction, and 2,026 or 65·9 per cent. in the jurisdiction of the County Courts. Of these petitions 70 were by professional men; 10 by officers in the army or navy; 94 by clerks; 2,226 by traders; 14 by lodging-house keepers; 33 by shopmen; 59 by agents; 46 by manufacturers; 114 by mechanics; 74 by graziers, farmers, millers, &c.; and 341 by other classes.

The number of petitions in 1859 was 2,820, showing an increase of 261 or 8·5 per cent. in 1860 upon the number for the preceding year.

INSOLVENT
DEBTORS' COURTS.

The classified amount of the scheduled debts of the insolvents was—

Classification of debts.	Under 100%	542
	100% and under 300%	2,304
	300% 500%	94

	1,000% 3,000%	40
	3,000% 5,000%	8
	5,000% and above	3

From the foregoing it appears that in 95·4 per cent. of these cases the amount of the debt was under 500%, showing a much lower average than in the cases of the petitioners under the Insolvency Acts. The number who had been before insolvent or bankrupt were 9·0 per cent of the total number of petitioners; 244 had been once, 29 twice; and 6 three times.

The number of estates realized in the cases under the Protection Acts was 453; 121 in the Insolvent Debtors' Court, 332 in the County Courts. The total value of the estates, debts, and effects realized was 19,914*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*; 5,283*l.* 0*s.* 7*d.* in the Insolvent Debtors' Court, 14,631*l.* 11*s.* 11*d.* in the County Courts. The amount for dividend was 13,390*l.* 9*s.* 11*d.* upon scheduled debts amounting to 227,853*l.* 19*s.* 11*d.*, of which 152,078*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* was ascertained for dividend. Upon this latter sum the amount for dividend was 8·8 per cent. The rates in the pound of the dividends were, under 1*s.* 250; 1*s.* and under 2*s.* 6*d.* 168; 2*s.* 6*d.* and under 5*s.* 78; 5*s.* and under 10*s.* 32; 10*s.* and under 15*s.* 4; 15*s.* and under 20*s.* 5; 20*s.* 1.

COURT OF CHAN-
CERY, p. 156.

The returns for the High Court of Chancery have been made by the chief officers of each branch of the court, for the year ended the 1st November 1860, in the same full and comprehensive form as the returns for the preceding year, showing the proceedings and duties in each branch, the fees levied on the suitors, the sums paid into court by the suitors, and the amounts paid out to them, under the decision of the court, during the year.

The returns made by the chief clerks show the number and class of the proceedings originated in the chambers of the Master of the Rolls and the three Vice Chancellors; the orders made thereon; the amount of the debts claimed and adjudicated upon, and the accounts passed; the number of sales of estates, and the amount realized thereby, and the number of purchases of estates under orders of court. The following summary shows the total of all the chambers for each of the years 1860 and 1859.

A return has been made to Parliament, through the Lord Chancellor, pursuant to Address of the House of Commons, by the official managers and liquidators of every joint stock company wound up, or winding up, under the statutes of 1848 and 1849. Of this return the chief clerks to the Master of the Rolls were so good as to forward a copy, as supplementary to the return furnished by them of the proceedings in the year 1860. Although this return, as including the winding up cases commenced in each year from the passing of the first of the above mentioned statutes up to 1859 inclusive, does not strictly come within the intention of the judicial statistics, which, being compiled annually, should apply to the proceedings of each year only, it may yet be interesting, and perhaps admissible under the nature of the winding up proceedings, which continue through successive years, (in some of the cases through ten or eleven years), and under the circumstance that such of the cases as commenced previously to 1858, cannot have been recorded in the Statistics, to introduce here a summary of the chief particulars stated in the return; the details will be found in the return itself which is printed by order of the House of Commons, (4 March 1861. 74.)

The names, then, are given of 81 companies wound up or winding up under the statutes above named, with the date of the appointment of the official managers in each case. The total of the gross amount of monies received from the assets of these companies was 3,197,473*l.* 14*s.* 5*d.* The total of the gross sums received from shareholders or contributories on account of calls, or by way of compromise of calls, (including the amount set off against calls by contributories who were also creditors, 82,045*l.* 9*s.* 7*d.*) was 2,704,585*l.* 7*s.* 5*d.* The expenses, so far as paid, including salary or remuneration to official managers, whether by per centage or otherwise, their travelling expenses, rent, rates, taxes, clerks or officers employed, solicitors' bills &c., amounted to 236,466*l.* 0*s.* 10*d.* The amount paid to creditors was 5,173,459*l.* 11*s.* 11*d.* The dates of the appointment of official managers may be classified as follows:—

in 1848 in 2 cases.	in 1856 in 19 cases.
„ 1852 „ 1 case.	„ 1857 „ 20 „
„ 1853 „ 2 cases.	„ 1858 „ 16 „
„ 1854 „ 2 „	„ 1859 „ 12 „
„ 1855 „ 5 „

In one case the record of the proceedings appears to have been lost, in one case the order for the appointment of managers was discharged. The return does not distinctly show the cases in which the winding up has been completed. Of the two cases commenced in 1848 the proceedings in one appear to have terminated in 1856, in the other in 1858. The proceedings in the case commenced in 1852, appear to have continued in 1860; of the 2 cases in 1853 one appears to have terminated in 1855 the other to have continued in 1859; of the two cases in 1854 one appears to have terminated in 1856, the other to have continued in 1859; of the five cases in 1855, one appears to have terminated in 1857, and four to have continued in 1859; of the 19 cases commenced in 1856, one appears to have terminated in 1859, fourteen to have continued in 1859, and four in 1860; of the 20 cases in 1857 thirteen appear to have continued in 1859, and seven in 1860; of the 16 cases in 1858 six appear to have continued in 1859, and ten in 1860; of the 12 in 1859 eight appear to have continued in 1860. In the return from the Court of Chancery for 1860, at p. 158, it will be seen that nine orders for winding up companies were brought into chambers in that year.

Registrars' Return, p. 145.

The return made by the Registrars shows the state of the business at the commencement of the year, the business set down, heard, and otherwise disposed of during the year, and that awaiting hearing at the end of the year, the orders made, the certificates given for the sale or transfer of securities, the cases standing for judgment at the commencement and at the end of the year, the number of days each judge sat in court, the number of causes transferred from each judge to other branches of the court, the number of orders drawn up in the Registrar's office; and the amount of fees collected through stamps, with the scale of fees in the different courts.

The proceedings are distinguished as they took place in the Appellate courts of the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Chancellor and Lords Justices, and the Lords Justices, and in the original Courts of the Master of the Rolls, and each of the three Vice Chancellors.

The total of the proceedings is shown in the following table, under the different heads.

The cases otherwise disposed of, were struck out, settled, abated for more than one year, or standing over generally. The remanets which at the end of 1859 exceeded the cases for hearing at the commencement of that year in the proportion of 13·2 per cent., were at the close of 1860 in excess of the cases for hearing at the commencement of the latter year in the proportion of 9·1 per cent. only.

In closing the report for the present year, an acknowledgment appears due to the numerous officials throughout the country, for the readiness which has been almost universally shown to meet the wishes of the Government, by furnishing, no doubt at the cost of some inconvenience and labour in many instances, the returns relating to their respective duties and offices from which alone these Statistics can be compiled. Each officer applied to may reflect, that failure on his part to afford the information asked for, or inaccuracy in what he supplies, must affect the completeness and the value of the Statistics, and all may accept the thanks which are offered for their past attention, as well as in anticipation of their continued co-operation.
